

Stewart Ralphs

Executive Director

Stewart Ralphs graduated from Brigham Young University with a B.A. in History and minors in Political Science and English. In 1990, Mr. Ralphs received his juris doctorate degree from the University of Utah's S.J. Quinney College of Law. After being admitted to the Utah Bar, he worked briefly in private practice. Mr. Ralphs joined Legal Aid Society of Salt Lake in 1991 as a Domestic Relations attorney. Beginning in 1992, Mr. Ralphs served as Director of the Domestic Violence Program for two years and then, in 1994, he was selected to be the Executive Director. Mr. Ralphs is involved in public policy issues and serves as a legislative representative for the Family Law Section and Utah Domestic Violence Council.